ANSWER AND JURY DEMAND OF DEFENDANT CACI
INTERNATIONAL INC IN RESPONSE TO PLAINTIFFS' AMENDED COMPLAINT

For its Answer to Plaintiffs' Amended Complaint, Defendant CACI International Inc ("CACI") states as follows:

PRELIMINARY STATEMENT

CACI is of the view that its filing of a Notice of Appeal from the Court's March 18, 2009 Memorandum Order denying in part the CACI Defendants' motion to dismiss has the effect of divesting this Court of jurisdiction in this action. As a result, CACI has no obligation at this time to file an Answer to Plaintiffs' Amended Complaint. Whether the Court is divested of jurisdiction is an issue raised in motions pending before the Court. However, it is not expected that the Court will rule on these issues prior to the deadline that would exist for filing an Answer if the Court were to conclude that it was not divested of jurisdiction. Therefore, out of an abundance of caution, CACI is filing this Answer to ensure that there is no risk that the Court might erroneously conclude that it had not been divested of jurisdiction and that CACI had allowed the deadline for responding to the Amended Complaint pass without filing an Answer.

With respect to the numbered paragraphs in Plaintiffs' Amended Complaint, CACI states as follows:

1. Paragraph 1 of the Amended Complaint alleges that the Plaintiffs suffered abuse and/or mistreatment while in United States custody at Abu Ghraib prison. As to whether these Plaintiffs suffered any abuse or mistreatment whatsoever while in United States custody, CACI lacks knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to the truth of such allegations and therefore denies them. As to whether CACI or CACI Premier Technology, Inc. (collectively, the "CACI Defendants") abused or mistreated Plaintiffs, or participated or acquiesced in any mistreatment or abuse of these Plaintiffs by others, CACI explicitly denies such allegations. CACI denies the remaining allegations in Paragraph 1.

RESPONSE TO PARAGRAPHS UNDER THE HEADING
"JURISDICTION AND VENUE"

2. CACI denies that this Court has subject-matter jurisdiction over Plaintiffs' claims.

3. If this Court has subject-matter jurisdiction, CACI admits that venue lies in this Court pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1391(a)(3). CACI denies the remaining allegations in Paragraph 2.

RESPONSE TO PARAGRAPHS UNDER THE HEADING

74. Paragraph 74 states a legal conclusion to which no response is required. To the extent a response is required, CACI denies the allegations in Paragraph 74.

75. CACI admits that it, through a subsidiary, wholly owns CACI PT. CACI denies the remaining allegations in Paragraph 75.

76. The allegations of Paragraph 76 of the Amended Complaint are so lacking in context as to be unintelligible. To the extent a response is required, CACI denies the allegations in Paragraph 76.

77. CACI admits that it does not, and would not, permit its employees to engage in torture. Any such misconduct would be unauthorized and outside the employees' scope of their employment. CACI denies the remaining allegations in Paragraph 77.

78. CACI denies that it or CACI PT was required or expected to provide operational supervision of the employees CACI PT made available to the Army chain of command for use in conducting the Army's interrogation mission in Iraq, as operational supervision and control was vested at all times in the United States Army leadership.

79. CACI admits that it does not, and would not, permit its employees to engage in torture. Any such misconduct would be unauthorized and outside the employees' scope of their employment. CACI denies the remaining allegations in Paragraph 79.

80. Paragraph 80 states a legal conclusion to which no response is required. To the extent a response is required, CACI denies that its employees had any contact with Plaintiffs, or any detainees, in Iraq. CACI further states that the United States Army exercised all operational control over CACI PT employees in Iraq. Responding further, to the extent a response is required, CACI denies that it would have vicarious liability for any conduct that is outside the scope of its employees' employment. CACI denies the remaining allegations in Paragraph 80.

81. Denied.

82. CACI, sometimes through counsel, has sent letters to media personnel or entities to identify misleading or false reporting by such persons or entities. CACI denies the remaining allegations in Paragraph 82.

83. CACI admits that it brought a defamation lawsuit against a talk radio host based on false and misleading statements she made about the CACI Defendants, and that the district court's entry of summary judgment in the defendants' favor was affirmed on appeal. CACI denies the remaining allegations in Paragraph 83.

84. Denied.

85. Denied.

¹ The Amended Complaint erroneously has two paragraphs numbered 79.

86. CACI admits that its former Chief Executive Officer wrote a book called Our Good Name. The remaining allegations in Paragraph 86 seek to characterize the contents of this publicly-available book, and CACI states that the contents of the book speak for themselves. To the extent a response is required, CACI denies the allegations in Paragraph 86. CACI further notes that Paragraph 86 ends with an incomplete sentence. To the extent CACI is required to respond to this incomplete sentence, CACI does not know what Plaintiffs are seeking to allege and therefore denies whatever allegations may be contained in the sentence fragment at the end of Paragraph 86.

87. Denied.

88. CACI is aware of a picture from Abu Ghraib prison depicting Mr. Johnson, who was then a CACI PT employee, but CACI denies that the picture depicts torture or a dangerous and harmful stress position. Moreover, CACI denies that there is even a prisoner in the photograph. CACI denies the remaining allegations in Paragraph 88.

89. Denied.

RESPONSE TO PARAGRAPHS UNDER THE HEADING
“CACI KNEW THAT THEIR TORTURE OF PRISONERS VIOLATED THE LAWS OF THE UNITED STATES”

90. CACI denies engaging in any conspiracy of any sort with respect to detainees in Iraq. Therefore, CACI denies the allegations in Paragraph 90.

91. CACI denies engaging in any conspiracy of any sort with respect to detainees in Iraq. Therefore, CACI denies the allegations in Paragraph 91.

92. CACI denies engaging in any conspiracy of any sort with respect to detainees in Iraq. Therefore, CACI denies the allegations in Paragraph 92.

93. CACI denies engaging in any conspiracy of any sort with respect to detainees in Iraq. Therefore, CACI denies the allegations in Paragraph 93.

94. CACI has never supported the treatment of detainees in Iraq in a manner other than that which is required by controlling law. CACI denies that the “Army Field Manual” has the force of law. CACI denies the remaining allegations in Paragraph 94.

95. CACI has never supported the treatment of detainees in Iraq in a manner other than that which is required by controlling law. CACI denies the remaining allegations in Paragraph 95.

96. The allegations in Paragraph 96 purport to characterize and quote from a government report, the contents of which speak for themselves. To the extent a response is required, CACI lacks knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to the truth of the allegations in Paragraph 96 and therefore denies them.

97. CACI has never supported the treatment of detainees in Iraq in a manner other than that which is required by controlling law. CACI denies the remaining allegations in Paragraph 97.

98. The allegations in Paragraph 98 concern the intentions of the “United States,” by which Plaintiffs presumably mean the United States government. While determining the “intent” of a government comprised of many thousands of personnel is not a foolproof exercise, CACI states that it expected CACI PT’s employees to comply with applicable law at all times in supporting the United States’ mission in Iraq, and presumes that United States authorities had the same expectation. CACI denies the remaining allegations in Paragraph 98.

99. The allegations in Paragraph 99 concern the position of the “United States,” by which Plaintiffs presumably mean the United States government. CACI states that it expected

CACI PT's employees to comply with applicable law at all times in supporting the United States' mission in Iraq, and presumes that United States authorities had the same expectation. CACI denies the remaining allegations in Paragraph 99.

100. CACI expected CACI PT's employees to comply with applicable law at all times in supporting the United States' mission in Iraq. CACI denies the remaining allegations in Paragraph 100.

RESPONSE TO PARAGRAPH UNDER THE HEADING “JURY DEMAND AND PRAYER FOR RELIEF”

205. Paragraph 205 of the Amended Complaint alleges that the Plaintiffs suffered abuse and/or mistreatment while in United States custody at Abu Ghraib prison. As to whether these Plaintiffs suffered any abuse or mistreatment whatsoever while in United States custody, CACI lacks knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to the truth of such allegations and therefore denies them. As to whether the CACI Defendants abused or mistreated Plaintiffs, or participated or acquiesced in any mistreatment or abuse of these Plaintiffs by others, CACI explicitly denies such allegations. The remainder of Paragraph 205 states Plaintiffs’ jury demand and is a prayer for damages. Because these remaining portions in Paragraph 205 contain no factual allegations, no response is required. To the extent a response is required, CACI denies that Plaintiffs are entitled to any relief from CACI.

ADDITIONAL DEFENSES

1. CACI is immune from suit.
2. Plaintiffs’ claims are preempted.
3. This Court lacks subject-matter jurisdiction over this action.
4. Plaintiffs’ claims raise nonjusticiable political questions.
5. Plaintiffs’ claims are barred by the applicable statutes of limitations.
6. Plaintiffs’ claims are barred by the doctrines of laches, estoppel, and unclean hands.
7. Plaintiffs have failed to exhaust the administrative remedies available to them.
8. The courts of the United States lack the jurisdiction and authority to consider Plaintiffs’ claims, which amount to a request for wartime reparations.

9. CACI is not liable on a vicarious liability or respondeat superior theory for any actions of CACI or CACI PT personnel outside the scope of their employment.
10. The actions of CACI, and CACI PT's employees in Iraq, were authorized by competent military authority.
11. The Amended Complaint fails to state a claim upon which relief may be awarded.
12. The loaned employee doctrine precludes Plaintiffs' claims.
13. CACI may not be subjected to the law of Iraq, which was an invaded and/or occupied territory at the relevant times in question.
14. The United States Constitution prohibits subjecting CACI to state tort law for conduct performed in connection with the provision of wartime interrogation services in support of the United States' mission in Iraq.
15. CACI owed no duty of care to Plaintiffs.
16. CACI cannot be held liable for conduct occurring after CACI PT ceased providing civilian interrogators in support of the United States Army's mission in Iraq.
17. The state secrets doctrine may bar Plaintiffs' claims.
18. Constitutional requirements of due process apply to Plaintiffs' prayer for punitive damages.

RESERVATION OF RIGHTS

This Answer is based on the information known to CACI to date, recognizing that CACI has not had the opportunity to take discovery from Plaintiffs or third parties in this action. To the extent CACI learns of new or additional information, CACI reserves its right to amend its Answer and/or to assert additional defenses. All allegations in the Amended Complaint that are not specifically admitted are hereby denied.

JURY DEMAND

CACI demands a trial by jury on all issues so triable.
